AYUSH - An integrated approach to Health

Organisers

Ministry of AYUSH

Background

The Ministry of AYUSH was formed on 9th November 2014 to ensure the optimal development and propagation of AYUSH systems of health care. Earlier it was known as the Department of Indian System of Medicine and Homeopathy (ISM&H) which was created in March 1995 and renamed as Department of Ayurveda, Yoga and Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha and Homoeopathy (AYUSH) in November 2003, with focused attention for development of Education and Research in Ayurveda, Yoga and Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha and Homoeopathy.

In keeping with the mandate of generating awareness amongst the masses about the strengths of AYUSH systems, the Ministry of Ayurveda, Yoga & Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha and Homoeopathy (AYUSH), Government of India has been organizing health melas called "AROGYA", a Comprehensive Exhibition on these systems, since 2001.

Objectives

- To upgrade the educational standards of Indian Systems of Medicines and Homoeopathy colleges in the country.
- To strengthen existing research institutions and to ensure a time-bound research programme on identified diseases for which these systems have an effective treatment.
- To draw up schemes for promotion, cultivation and regeneration of medicinal plants used in these systems.
- To evolve Pharmacopoeial standards for Indian Systems of Medicine and Homoeopathy drugs.

Ayurveda

Ayurveda is the Science of Life, is a 5000 years of wisdom distilled into a system of practice having its historical roots in the Indian subcontinent. Ayurveda is a science dealing not only with treatment of diseases, but is a complete way of life. This system of Health stresses on the prevention of body ailments in addition to curing them. Curative Ayurveda has main eight branches : General Medicine, Pediatrics, Psychology & Psychiatry, E.N.T. & Ophthalmology, Surgery, Toxicology, Nutrition and Aphrodisiacs. Ayurvedic principles of Health & Disease revolve around the concept of 3 doshas - Vata, Pitta & Kapha. According to Ayurveda, our human body is a mirror of physical surroundings. Ayurveda has made several contributions for Medicine; Sushruta, father of Surgery who lived in 700BC was an Ayurveda

Unani Medicine

The foundation of Unani system was laid by Hippocrates. Unani medicine, otherwise called Islamic Herbal Medicine is a Greko Arabic Medicine which is based on the 4 fundamental principles : Dam (Blood), Belugum (Phlegm), Safra (Yellow Bile), Sauda (Black Bile). The balance of these principles provides health, while the imbalance of any or all results in diseases. The treatment approach of Unani is to balance the imbalanced principles through a 4 fold approach; Lifestyle modification, Diet therapy, Internal medicine and Regimental therapy. Regimental therapy is very popular in Islamic culture which is otherwise called Hijama or Wet Cupping. Natural herbs are used as internal medications, commonly used herbs are dried ginger, black pepper, cinnamon, aloe vera, amla, etc.

Siddha

Siddha System of Medicine, having its roots laid down during the Dravidian Era, is obviously said to be the very ancient system of medicine in India. It is not only a medical system but also a part of our delighted culture and tradition. This system employs a holistic approach in its treatment methodology and it has made enormous contribution to the healthcare of the people.. Rasavatham (Alchemy), Kayakalpam (Rejuvenation therapy with specific drugs and life style practices), Naadhi Parisothanai (Pulse diagnosis), Thokkanam (Siddha Physiotherapy techniques) & Varma Science are few among the specialities of siddha system of medicine. The principles and doctrines of this system have close relationship with the Universal nature. Siddha System utilizes a wide range of raw materials of different origins like Plant based Raw Materials, Animal Based Raw Materials, Metals, Minerals, Salts etc. This system has 32 different types of internal medicines and 32 different types of external medicines and therapies and also the diseases are widely classified into 4448.. This System is being practiced by the people living in Singapore, Malaysia, Srilanka etc. Siddha Varmam is now recognised by Govt. of Malaysia. According to the Siddha system diet and lifestyle plays a major role for the preventive and promotive and curative health care.

Homoeopathy

The word Homoeopathy is derived from two Greek words, Homois meaning similar and pathos meaning suffering. Homoeopathy, a system of medicine discovered by a German doctor, Dr. Samuel Hahnemann, treats the patients with highly diluted substances with the aim of triggering the body's natural system of healing. Homoeopathy is based on the principle - treat like with like, that is a substance which causes symptoms when taken in large doses, can be used in small amounts, to treat those same symptoms. The Government and the people of India accepted homoeopathy widely and it is flourished and updated by research & clinical practice. The ultra-dilution of homoeopathy medicine is widely accepted as nanomedicine and it is offered as the medicine of the new millennium. Indian Homoeopathy stands as a strong arm of

Yoga & Naturopathy

Yoga today, is no longer restricted to hermits, saints and sages; it has entered into our everyday lives and has aroused a worldwide awakening and acceptance in the last few decades. The science of Yoga and its techniques have now been reoriented to suit modern sociological needs and lifestyles. Experts of various branches of medicine including modern medical sciences are realising the role of these techniques in the prevention and mitigation of diseases and promotion of health. Naturopathy is an art and science of healthy living and a drugless system of healing based on well founded philosophy. Naturopathy is a system of treatment which recognises the existence of the vital curative force within the body. Naturopathy techniques involve : Diet Therapy, Fasting Therapy, Mud Therapy, Hydrotherapy, Masso Therapy, Acupressure, Acupuncture, Chromo Therapy, Air Therapy, Magnet

Sowa-Rigpa

Sowa-Rigpa commonly known as Amchi system of medicine is one of the oldest, living and well documented medical tradition of the world. It has been popularly practice in Tibet, Mongolia, Bhutan, some parts of China, Nepal, Himalayan regions of India and few parts of former Soviet Union, etc. The majority of theory and practice of Sowa-Rigpa is similar to Ayurveda Gyud-Zi (four tantra). The fundamental text book of this medicine was first translated from India and enriched in Tibet with its own folklore and other medical tradition like Chinese and Persian, etc. The impact of Sowa-Rigpa along with Buddhism and other Tibetan art and sciences were spread in neighboring Himalayan regions.

AYUSH - INDIA'S RICH HERITAGE

AYUSH is the acronym of the medical systems that are being practiced in India such as Ayurveda, Yoga & Naturopathy Unani, Siddha and Homoeopathy. India has long history and culture running over 5000 years of using traditional medicines for health care and developing them with modern scientific outlook. The AYUSH systems of medicines viz Ayurveda, Yoga & Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha, Sowa-Rigpa and Homoeopathy are comprehensive scientific systems of medicine which are practiced in India. The Wellness industry in India has evolved rapidly from its nascent unstructured beginning in the early 1990s to a comprehensive ecosystem today. This ecosystem comprises consumers, providers, adjacent industries, facilitators and the Government. While the Consumers mainly comprise a young population with rising income levels and the increasing need to look good and feel good, which has led these young consumers to seek wellness solutions to meet lifestyle challenges, the Providers offer wellness services and products to meet the hygiene, curative and enhancement needs of the consumer.

Why World AYUSH EXPO?
